COAL DISPUTE.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION NOT TO BE ENFORCED.

SENSATION IN COMMONS.

LONDON, May 30.

As a result of the statement made by representatives of the miners on Saturday it was universally understood that the Government contemplated compulsory arbitration in the event of the parties not agreeing. Hence there was a sensation in the House of Commons at question time to-day when Mr. Lloyd George denied that he had informed the miners' executive that if it did not accept the Government's proposals legislation would be passed to compel them to submit to arbitration. The Premier added that the words compulsory arbitration were not even mentioned in the whole proceedings. He hoped that at future conferences no unauthorized communications would be sent to the Press.

AUSTRALIA WINS BY TEN WICKETS.

LONDON, May 30.

In unsettled weather before 18,000 spectators, with a slow wicket, the Australians made 232 runs, scoring slowly. The fielding was poor. Woolley took three wickets for 46 runs.

England made 147 runs. Knight made 38 and Woolley 34. McDonald took five wickets for 32 runs. The fielding was splendid. Australia made 30 runs for the loss of no wickets, and won by ten wickets. Kent beat Northants by 284 runs.

NAVAL ARMAMENTS.

BRITAIN AWAITING AMERICA'S NEXT MOVE.

LONDON, May 30.

In the House of Commons, replying to Commr. Kenworthy with regard to the American Senate's passing Senator Borah's resolution on May 26, Mr. Lloyd George said that he had not yet received an invitation from President Harding to attend a conference on the limitation of naval armaments.

Replying to a question whether meanwhile further British naval construction could be stopped, the Premier said that he did not think that had been done anywhere in the world. Everything would depend on whether Senator Borah's resolution was put into operation.

Commr. Kenworthy suggested that in view of the strength of our naval position we could afford to lead the way in stopping construction.

Lord Curzon pointed out that Senator Borah's resolution did not refer to ships being constructed.

The Premier Agrees.

[A Washington message dated May 26 stated:—The Senate unanimously adopted an amendment to the Naval Appropriation Bill requesting President Harding to invite Britain and Japan to join the United States in a disarmament conference.]

ASSAULT CHARGES.

BARRISTER'S COMPLAINT.

FINES FOR EUROPEANS: JAIL FOR CHINESE.

"AN OBNOXIOUS SUGGESTION."

At the Magistrate's court to-day, Mr. F. C. Jenkin, instructed by Mr. Leo D'Almeida, applied to Magistrate Orme for a rehearing of the case in which two members of the Salt Fish Dealers' and Employees' Guild were sentenced to one month's imprisonment without the option of a fine for an assault in which intimidation for trade union purposes was alleged. The case was concluded on Saturday last.

Mr. Jenkin said he wished to ask the Magistrate to reconsider the case and impose a fine. The grounds of the application were based on the claim of his clients that they should be accorded, if not the same, then treatment as similar as possible to that meted out to Europeans. Taking the police version as being the more trustworthy, Mr. Jenkin claimed that the defendants, being slightly intoxicated, handled a man somewhat severely, so that when the police saw him his coat was torn and he had a few bruises. In Mr. Lindell's Court, on the previous day, two Europeans were fined $5 and ordered to pay $5 compensation for an assault of which the circumstances were that one of them, for no purpose whatsoever, assaulted a passenger in a passing ricksha, hit him on the head and threw him in the gutter, and, not satisfied with that, assaulted the ricksha coolie also. In this case, also, the defendants were stated to be slightly intoxicated.

Mr. Jenkin submitted that sentences should be subject to some sort of standardisation and that within 24 working hours such dissimilarity of treatment should not occur. Discrimination between Europeans and natives in assault cases had reached a stage when he submitted, most respectfully, that it was time some notice was taken.

The Magistrate said he could soon give the grounds for the sentence imposed. The circumstances in the Salt Fish Guild case indicated an intention to cause damage to the peace, good order and well-being of the public. As to the other case mentioned by Mr. Jenkin, Mr. Orme said that had not been tried by him. The object of sentences was to act as a deterrent upon crime and he could explain why Europeans received such light sentences: they were not numerous and easily controlled. The Chinese were more numerous and neither easily accessible nor easily controlled. Any suggestion that there was discrimination between Chinese and Europeans was obnoxious and he emphatically repelled it. Punishments were merely deterrents and in the case of Europeans it was possible by means of fines, to control them.

Mr. Jenkin remarked that his clients were not convicted of intimidation but only of assault. If the Magistrate was not prepared to reconsider the case himself, he asked leave to appeal to a full court by way of rehearing. He desired to appeal against the sentence as being against the weight of evidence. He submitted that his Worship brushed aside evidence which proved conclusively, if believed—and there was no indication from the Bench that the evidence was disbelieved—that the complainant was grossly perjured himself. "Your Worship put it to me," said Mr. Jenkin, "that all Chinese witnesses are guilty of exaggeration: that may or may not be so, but I do not know at what point your Worship stops treating evidence as exaggeration, as utterly untrue. You said in effect, here are two men or either side swearing the contrary: let us brush their evidence aside and get on with the case. I put it that mentally speaking, you rejected evidence that was credible and which, being rejected, left the story of the complainant and his master inadequate as the basis for the imposition of so severe a sentence."

The Magistrate: I must remind you, Mr. Jenkin, that two people were convicted and one was discharged, being given the benefit of the doubt. The man convicted admitted the assault; I should like to hear your arguments on that.

Mr. Jenkin: I submit that the sentence was too severe. Furthermore, if a man apprehends an assault and seizes the other man who in the struggle gets damaged, I do not know that the law warrants, in those circumstances, imprisonment for a month without the option.

The Magistrate said he would consider that point and would notify his decision.

Westinghouse

ELECTRICAL APPARATUS FOR EVERY PURPOSE

This trade mark is the guarantee of dependable "electrical equipment.Where the Light Comes FromA modern miracle! One after another a million points of light spring into being until the whole city is radiant with an illumination second only to that of the sun itself.From the bulb of the lamp back to the original source of power there is no machine that does not owe something of its past development and present perfection to Westinghouse Electric.For Westinghouse Electric makes the transforming apparatus by which the electric current is raised to the tremendous voltage—which is necessary for its transmission over great distances, and reduced again to the low voltage at which it is translated into light.

It makes the great generators in the Central Station in which the current had its birth.

It makes the marvelously efficient steam turbines that drive its generators.

It makes the automatic stokers, feeding coal under the boilers that save human labor and assure better combustion.Every step of the long evolution—stoker, turbine, generator, alternating current, and transformer—represents a distinct Westinghouse contribution to the great result—light in a dark house for the greatest possible number of people at the lowest possible cost.

RUSSIA TO-DAY.

LENIN REVISES HIMSELF.

TRUTH FILTERING THROUGH.

We are gradually coming to know what did happen at the Bolshevik Congress in Russia on March 15. The first thing we heard was from the Reval correspondent of a Paris newspaper. He said, in effect, that Lenin had forsaken Communism and that the whole Soviet system of economic organization was at an end. Then Mr. Lloyd George, in the House of Commons improved upon this. He diverted the House by saying that Lenin had just delivered speeches so capitalistic, apparently,
that "if he had delivered them in a trade union meeting he would not have been allowed to go on"; they were speeches "which might very well be delivered by Mr. Churchill" and which ought to be circulated here "as an antidote to the propaganda of the Labour party in the House of Commons." We fear the suggestion that Lenin had turned more moderate than Mr. Henderson and Mr. Clynes—both of them men more moderate in mind than Mr.
Lloyd George—had only the merit of picturesqueness. The extent of the change in Lenin's views—or perhaps we should only say in his immediate policy—probably finds its most accurate record, so far, in a long telegram from Mr. Michael Farman to the Observer. What seems to have happened is that Lenin has made up his mind that the Russian peasants—that is, a majority of Russians—are not to be induced to accept Communism. So Lenin and his colleagues in the dictatorship are going to let the peasants have their way; the peasants will keep the land they have got, raise the crops they choose, and sell them the best way they can. Till now the Soviet Government has let each peasant family keep only enough food for itself, and has appropriated the rest for general distribution. Henceforward the Government is to levy only a 10 per cent tax, taken in kind; it will tithes, as the Church used to do.The true news, though less sensational than the rumors before it, is of extreme interest to everybody who tries to think seriously about the ways in which modern States can be run. We all see, more or less, that a State will, or may, work in practice if it is organized wholly either on the individualist or wholly on the communist basis. But to most of us it seems extraordinarily difficult to see how a State can work which tries to maintain distinct within itself an indi-vidualist hemisphere and a communist hemisphere. It is, as far as we cansee, like attempting to run a windmill by steam. The absolute basis of the communist system is that the producer should not have a right of property in what he produces, any more than a policeman should have a right of property in the wa chouses he guards. Both are, on the communist theory, only doing a State service and only entitled to the main-tenance
allotted by the State to its servants—that is, to all citizens. In Russia the urban labourers
have to live under that system
What they produce is the State's and not theirs. They cannot keep and put by for themselves so much of its value as remains over when the rest has defrayed the cost of their quarters and rations. Under the new half-and-half system, then, the town population of Russia will not be allowed to make accumulations of capital, while the rural population will be given freedom to do so.
This is not to say that all the Russian peasants are going to become rich.
Some of them may be worse off for the necessities of life than the rationed townsmen engaged in forced labour. Possibly, if the Soviet organisation shows a great increase in efficiency, the general level of well-being in the towns may be higher than that in the country. But in any case there will be established a more and a less privileged class. What will be lawful for more than half of Russia will be forbidden to the rest. And then will come a new and severe test of the stability of the communist system in its own hemisphere. Patriotism or some form of public spirit, especially if stimulated by the instinct of resistance to foreign interference, as that of Russians has been, may lead a working majority to put up with a system which they do not love nor believe in. It is a different matter to put up with it when it has not the peculiar advantage of being attacked by foreigners, and when an actual majority—in this case a very great majority—of one's own countrymen are exempt from it.It would not seem to us scientific simply to pooh-pooh or abuse this curious attempt to divide a single State into a Socialist and a non-Socialist hemisphere. In theory that kind of division is what many thoughtful people have imagined as the one ideal solution of the great world-wide dispute, though unhappily
a solution to which they see no practical means of approach. People who try to read mankind and not merely books are commonly impressed with the fact that, from one important point of view, the question between Socialism and its opposite is, in the strictest and most serious sense, a question of tastes.
The types of mind and temperament to which each appeals and which would feel one or the other system to be the more ennobling and in-springing to itself are perfectly distinguishable. It is not that the one set are necessarily wrong and the other necessarily right. It is that they are different in nature. And the most fundamental problem is not to give either of these types utter triumph and domination over the other, but to devise some form of social and industrial organisation under which neither of these types of mind and soul would be sterilised or starved. For our part we can at present see no way whatever to any practical model of a bilateral State which would hold out simultaneously to both types of citizens substantially the conditions under which each can receive full satisfaction. The only line of advance we can see is the humble one of compromise, each State making the best efforts it can to combine in its legislation such elements as may go farthest in making better citizens of each type without grievous disablement to the other. But all of us, if we have not lost our tempers on either side so far as to lose also our powers of observation, must feel an intense interest in this "audacious effort of Lenin's to make a communist urban Russia lie down with an individualist rural Russia. Our hopes cannot be high, for the evidence of Mr.
Wells, Mrs. Snowden, and Mr. Bertrand Russell raises grave doubt whether Lenin's Government commands enough administrative skill to give any experiments their full chance.
But, whatever happens, we must learn a great deal by watching the course of this last experiment—more daring, if anything, than that of the first institution of Communism in a country that had not even had any practice with democracy—Manchester

"TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE."
HONGKONG, TUESDAY, MAY 31, 1921.

TO SQUEEZE IS HUMAN.

To "squeeze" is human; to know it common sense. Is it recognized by all those who volunteer the opinion that democratic government in China must fail because the Chinese are too addicted to "squeeze"? What do we mean by "squeeze"? Not always out-and-out "bribery and corruption"; but yet, conduct dishonourable in a public man or servant. Not always what the Americans call "graft," and yet to be so classified. The gratification of private greed at the public expense, sometimes in ways legally honest or passable, but morally wrong. That is what we mean by "squeeze." Petty pilferage or big bribes, perquisites and douceurs, sometimes taking that fairly honourable men regard as covered by the commandment in Deuteronomy, not to muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Yet all "squeeze," and by some of our people never did it, but only Chinese. All officials do it everywhere. It is human nature. Nepotism is more than germane to skin to squeeze. "Privilege," which we recognize, is squeeze. Money and money's worth is not the only thing that can be privately acquired in a public position. From the use of the office stationery to the Departmental motor-car, they all do it. A man who would be honestly and genuinely angry if offered a bribe will help himself in various recognized ways to things that, not being in his position, we of the commonality cannot do. He would be offended if it were pointed out as "squeeze," which it is, just as many a Chinese official would be shocked and hurt to be told how the European squeezer regards his official perquisites. The Americans seem to recognize it by making office the spoil of politics. British critics sometimes point the finger of scorn that way, overlooking the fact that whereas in America most people get a chance in turn, in our country the "chance" has been permanently preserved as a class privilege. Of late the class preserves have begun to be poached, and the signs are that the job of treading out the administrative corn will go round a wider circle than it has done. There will, however, always be squeeze, which is peculiar to no race, nation, or class. Nor would we muzzle the ox so long as it takes its mouthful openly, and not too greedily. That might be made one of the tests for tenure of office. Secret eating is clearly stealing. Chinese "squeeze" is not quite that—at least as regards much of it—but it is, or has been, grossly greedy. That does not make a good democratic government in China impossible. The exercise of democracy must create a public opinion against greed, against excessive squeeze, such as we foreigners have, and official tenures will depend upon their respect for such opinion. So far as this argument is concerned, the outlook in China is not so hopeless as seems to be supposed by foreigners who have not grasped the truth of our little paraphrase: "To squeeze is human, to know it commonsense." If it is so humanly common as we suggest, it cannot be so grave an "error" that the original line asking for forgiveness need be more closely related. Commonsense says that if Caesar's wife be honest, we need not censure her for not being quite above suspicion. Commonsense adds that if Caesar's honesty will have her reputation somewhat blown upon, she should not be too blatantly scornful in her comments on other ladies. In discussing Chinese affairs, it seems fair to include them in Grot's category of "matter appropriate for subjective history." To see clearly the "beam" in the eye of China, ours should not have even a "mote" in it.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Among the passengers who arrived here yesterday on board the Lloyd Triestino liner "Aquila," were Sir Olway Wheeler-Cuffie, Superintendent Engineer of Public Works, Burma, and Lady Wheeler-Cuffie.

Captain A. H. Walker, O.B.E., formerly in command of the sloop Cadmus, in China, has assumed the position of Assistant Director of Torpedoes in the Department of Torpedoes and Mining at the Admiralty.

Dr. Wellington Koo has exchanged views with Britain regarding the proposal that China and Britain raise their Legation rank to that of Embassies. He has appealed by cable to the Waichang to ascertain the views of Japan, Italy, France and the United States regarding it.

Wreaths were placed at the foot of the Beconsfield statue on April 19, in memory of the 40th anniversary of the statesman's death. The late Mr. R. E. Bellios, of Hongkong, had again the place of honour given to his large shield of primroses bearing the inscription, "Peace with Honour."

An engagement is announced between Lieut. Col. Eustace Clement Smith, 22nd Punjab, youngest son of the late Sir Cecil Clement Smith, P.C., G.C.M.G., and Lillias Cumming, daughter of the late Lieut. Col. Arthur Dunsbar, Gordon Highlanders, and sister of Sir Edward Dunsbar, of Northfield, Barroet.

Opium smuggling on the West River during the latter half of last year was on the increase, says the Samshui Customs report. The man in the street states that the compradores of steamers are the biggest offenders: they charge a regular freight according to weight for carrying opium, but take no responsibility for the safe delivery.

Lieut. Colonel F. S. G. Piggott, D.S.O., who was attached to the suite of the Crown Prince of Japan during his visit to Britain, has like his father, Sir Francis Taylor Piggott, who was legal adviser to the Prime Minister more than thirty years ago, had a good deal of experience of Japan and the Far East. Sir Francis was a Chief Justice of Hongkong.

Mr. J. W. Buchanan Jardine, only son of Sir Robert and Lady Buchanan Jardine, of Castle Milk, has returned from a tour round the world. His marriage with Miss Jean Hamilton, younger daughter of Lord and Lady Ernest Hamilton, will take place in London early in June. After the wedding the young couple—he is just 21—will take up their residence at Comlongan Castle, Dumfriesshire.

Only a few years back the idea of an aerial postal service from this country to the Far East would have been regarded merely as the flight of a vivid imagination, says the L. & C. Express. During the discussion in the House of Commons the other day on the vote for the Air Ministry, Sir W. Joynson-Hicks made the suggestion that the R36 should be put on a postal and passenger service to Egypt and India, expressing the view that, if proper arrangements were made, it would be possible for an airship to make a stopover flight from England to Japan in six days.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The examination result of the 65th session, January-April, 1921, of the London School of Tropical Medicine has been issued. Amongst those who have passed is Mr. K. C. Cheng, M.B., B.S. (Hongkong).

With reference to the appointment of Mr. E. S. Little as Australian Trade Commissioner to the East, the L. & C. Express states that the possibilities of trade between Australia and the East have long been recognised, and despite the absence of facilitating influences in the shape of Government encouragement and a regular shipping service, exports have steadily increased. After much agitation, the Commonwealth Government shipping line was induced to plan several of its steamers on the Eastern run, and as a result an impetus has been given to trade.

In discussing the journey of the Crown Prince of Japan, a writer in the Observer says that those acquainted with Japan, and the conditions which have arisen during the war, recognise that a situation is being created which will eventually come to a straight struggle between the democracy and the clans. The democracy will turn to the Throne, and, if our surmise is right, will not turn in vain. The record of the present Emperor and his Consort, gives every indication that the tour of the Heir Apparent is deliberately intended as the prelude to an era of greater democratic freedom.

With reference to a report circulated by Chinese news agencies to the effect that a formal protest had been lodged with the British Legation by the Chinese Government against the importation of Indian opium into Hongkong, Reuter's Agency learnt on inquiry at the British Legation:—(1)—That no such protest has been lodged. (2)—That the new agreement referred to between Hongkong and the Indian Government is identical with the old agreement except that the price charged per chest to the Hongkong Government is doubled. (3)—That the statement that ten chests of Indian opium are to be imported into Hongkong for consumption in the interior of China is false. (4)—That it is true that the Hongkong Government are importing ten chests of opium a month for the year 1921. This is the lowest figure yet reached and shows a reduction of many hundreds per cent. compared with the import of 1912, since which date a steady reduction has taken place.

ABOUT THE ASHES.TEST MATCH ITEMS.*FACTS AND FIGURES.

By their victory at Nottingham the Australians have won the 100th test match between England and Australia. Each country had won 40 of the 99 matches played and there had been 19 drawn contests.

The next Test Match will be played at Lords on June 11, followed by a match at Leeds on July 2 and one at Manchester on July 23. The final test will take place on the Oval on August 13.

The Australians have a big programme in front of them. In addition to the five test matches they have been booked for no fewer than twenty country games and twelve others including two against Scotland at Glasgow and Edinburgh. It averages out at nine games per month.

The defeats of the Englishmen in Australia came mainly from two sources bad fielding and lack of bowlers who could also bat. Reuter's cable discloses that the first of these defects (at all events) has still to be remedied.

McDonald who took five wickets for 32 runs, was one of the first of the Australian trundlers to impress the English critics as a dangerous possibility. He is a fast bowler with a high free action.

Gregory's performance when he annexed six wickets at a cost of only 58 runs discloses him to be at the top of his bowling form. In addition to being an exceptionally fast bowler he is a wonderful man in the field.

While the notable achievements of the visitors make the Home team's chances of regaining the Ashes appear, none too rosy some solace is to be derived from a dip into test match statistics. The Australians, it seems, have in the past proved far more formidable when playing on their own home grounds than in the Old Country for their 41 victories only 9 have been won on English soil. The English total however is more evenly distributed for 23 victories were gained in Australia and 17 in England. Of the 19 drawn games the majority curiously enough have been played at Home. So "on form" the Englishmen's chances are fair.

LOCAL FOOTBALL.LEAGUE AND ASSOCIATION MEETINGS.*INVITATION FROM JAVA.

At Victoria Barracks yesterday evening, the annual general meeting of the Hongkong Football League was held under the chairmanship of Master Gunner May. There were present Messrs. R. J. Wilton, D. J. Purves and M. L. Ralston (H. K. F. C.), R. M. Omar (S. J. C.), H. Reynolds and H. J. Farmer (Willes), A. P. Handbury (S. Coy. R. G. A.), R. S. R. Swan and J. Robertson (P. R. C.), F. Payne (S. and D.), C. F. Yuen (S. C. A. A.), D. Clow (R. G. A.), E. A. Lees (Punjabis), S. Masters ("Titania"), W. F. J. Andrew, W. H. Thornton, E. Cheesley, W. E. Hollands, E. M. Williams, and J. Ralston (Hon. Sec.). After the minutes of the last general meeting had been read and confirmed, the Statement of Accounts, which showed a credit balance of $134.42, and the report were submitted and unanimously adopted.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing season 1921-22:—
President: Mr. R. J. Wilton; Vice-President: Mr. Gr. May, R.G.A.; Hon. Sec. and Treasurer: Mr. J. Ralston. The latter gentleman was not desirous of this appointment, as he would be leaving for home early in the season, and Mr. M. L. Ralston (Hongkong Club) was elected to the post.

League Management Committee: Messrs. J. Rodger, Swann, Farmer, S. Masters and Ip Kau.

"ASSOCIATION."
The annual general meeting of the Hongkong Football Association followed with Mr. Wilton, President of the Association, in the chair.

The Honorary Secretary submitted the minutes of the previous meeting and the statement of accounts for confirmation. Explaining the accounts Mr. Ralston said that the printing of the handbooks showed a loss of $20, but there were still some in stock, and as the rules had not been altered since the last season, these were still up-to-date. The accounts, which showed a credit balance of $145.78, were unanimously adopted.

The following were elected as officers for the season 1921-2:—
President: Mr. R. J. Wilton; Vice-Presidents: Lieut. Comdr. Gilchrist, R.N. and Lieut. W. H. Thornton, R.G.A. Councillors: Messrs. Robertson, Farmer and Purves.

Hon. Sec. and Treasurer: Mr. M. L. Ralston.
Referees' Board: Messrs. J. McCubbin and A. T. Hamilton, Ch. Stoker Masters, C.S.M. Williams and Mr. Gr. May (Hon. Secretary to the Board).

Mr. Williams proposed that the referees' fees for second division matches be two dollars per match. Mr. Gr. May explained that this would mean an additional cost to the League of $132. He was in favour of the two dollars, but the question of the extra expense should be considered.

After a lengthy discussion, it was decided to increase the entrance fee next season to twenty dollars a team in each division of the League. With the same number of teams next season, as this, and with each club playing eleven home matches, each team will cost the League twenty-two dollars in referees' expenses alone, so the management will be called upon to provide extra funds from which to pay for the cost of medals.

JAVA INVITES TEAM.

The Secretary read a letter from the Director of Dakar Park, in Batavia, Java, inviting a football team from Hongkong to visit Batavia. The letter offered to bear all expenses.

It suggested a team of fifteen men, to play about August 1st, on the lines of the matches recently played with the visitors from Singapore. It hoped Hongkong would be able to send fifteen first class players to beat the Batavia team.

The Chairman said he believed Dakar Park was some sort of recreation ground conducted on money lines, and not as recreation grounds were known here. Singapore sent a team across, and the matches drew pretty big gates, the management of the Park of course paying all expenses. It did not make any difference that the matches were played for a gate.

They seemed very anxious to have a Hongkong team visit them, feeling that it would draw a big crowd; but August was a very bad month, because the players would not have had any practice, and it was no use sending them down unless they are going to make a good show. Otherwise they would be a laughing stock. "If the Association agreed to send a team it must select the very best men available."

The matter was discussed at length. It was pointed out that a team could not be sent in the middle of the Hongkong season, without upsetting the local competitions. It must be sent before or after the Hongkong season. September was preferred. Suggestions as to selection were made, and finally a sub-committee was appointed to ascertain from the clubs which players can make the trip, the Hon. Secretary to write to Batavia meanwhile, and make the fixture definite for September if suitable to the Java promoters. The following form the sub-committee:—Master Gunner May, Mr. W. Hollands, Mr. H. J. Farmer, Mr. S. Masters and the Hon. Secretary.

INTERPORT BLAZERS.

A delegate brought up the matter of an interport blazer, which Shanghai had been discussing.

The Hon. Secretary said they must have an Interport blazer or badge or cap. There had not been an Interport match for years.

Mr. Thornton: The last was in 1913 I think.

The Hon. Secretary said that advances had been made to Shanghai to bring about an interchange of visits, but Shanghai were unresponsive. If they did decide to have a blazer he thought the Shanghai idea was good, that in home matches each member of the team get a blazer, and in away matches, only a certain proportion of players since there was often a tail.

Master Gunner May thought that everyone who represented the Colony in Interports should have his blazer.

In further discussion it was said that at the last contest Hongkong was beaten by Shanghai in two matches. None of the Hongkong team got anything on that occasion.

The Chairman reminded the speaker that the Association was not then in the position it holds to-day.

The matter was allowed to drop.

OTHER BUSINESS.
Among the other business discussed by the meeting was the question of failure on the part of teams to turn out, a matter which was raised by C. S. M. Williams who pointed out the waste of time and money in cases where men on duty had to pay others to do their work. The Chairman said that several clubs had been fined in this connection last season in addition to forfeiting the points. The Hon. Sec. said that the fines provided by the rules of Association was $5, but he advised that offences should not be taken up whenever they were committed. In any case, the matter could be discussed later. The meeting dismissed the subject for the present.

C. S. M. Williams then asked whether a junior player could take part in a Shield match, and suggested that there should be a Junior Cup. He was informed that the Shield competition was open to both Senior and Junior teams, and was run under the same system as at home.

WHY.DO PEOPLE TOUCH GLASSES BEFORE DRINKING?

This custom, which was far more prevalent in the days before the enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment than it is at the present time, had its origin in the same idea of safety which led men to shake hands with the right hand—as an assurance that they were concealing no weapon—and to raise the helmet to women or others whom they respected. In the days when duelling was at its height, it was customary for the combatants to pause for a moment before taking their positions and drink a glass of wine supplied by the seconds. In order to make certain that this wine had not been tampered with, one glass was filled to the brim and then half of its contents was emptied into the glass of the adversary, so that if any attempt had been made to poison one of the duellists, each of them would be equally affected.

The practice, reminiscent of the days of the Borgias, passed out along with the custom of the duel, but the habit of touching glasses or holding them up as if preparatory to touching them, remained as a silent reminder of the time when no man dared trust anyone but went always armed and prepared for trouble.

SAD BATHING FATALITY.ACCIDENT AT NORTH POINT.

Severe spinal injuries which yesterday proved fatal were sustained by Walter Hardwick, the 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick, of the Taihook Sugar Refinery, when diving from the North Point pier on Sunday afternoon. The deceased who had only recently returned from a holiday at home with his parents was formerly a member of the Hongkong troops of Boy Scouts, and since his return had been employed as an apprentice engineer, at the Taihook Dockyard. Deep sympathy will be felt for the parents in their sad bereavement and also the deceased's sister Beatrice who saw his accident.

MOTOR PROSECUTIONS.

DANGEROUS SPEEDING.

A MOTOR CAR RACE.

Mr. Leo d'Almada this morning represented the drivers of motor cars Nos. 219 and 164, charged before Magistrate Linsell with speeding to the danger of the public. Mr. d'Almada said that his clients admitted that they were speeding, but were prepared to give an undertaking not to do so again. In view of that he asked for leniency.

Inspector Garrod said that the cars were running together, trying to pass one another. Mr. d'Almada said that both his clients were competent drivers, one of them having driven for 13 years in Australia where he had never met with an accident.

The Magistrate imposed a fine of $20, each.

DOCTOR IN A HURRY.

Mr. A. E. Hall pleaded guilty in behalf of Dr. S. C. Ho to a charge of speeding car No. 249.

Sergeant Smith said that Dr. Ho was driving the car himself going East to West at about 20 miles an hour and gathering speed as he went. Witness tried to stop the car at the foot of Garden Road, but apparently the doctor did not see him.

The Magistrate: Is there an actual speed limit?

Inspector Garrod: 15 miles.

Mr. Hall said that the reason for speeding was because Dr. Ho had an important case to attend to.

A fine of $15 was imposed.

HOOTER SOUNDING.

Inspector Aris, of Hongkong Station, charged the driver of motor car No. 95, owned by the Eagle Garage with failing to sound his hooter when making the corner of Taiting Street.

The defendant alleged that he sounded the hooter immediately before making the corner.

Inspector Aris said that the defendant's car was behind another. The front car sounded the hooter, but the defendant did not.

The Magistrate pointed out to Inspector Garrod that section 109 under which the defendant was charged provided only for no hooter or a non-serviceable hooter.

Inspector Garrod referred to section 45, but this was found to provide only for slowing down when making a corner. It was then discovered that there was no section dealing with the offence the defendant was charged with, and the Magistrate discharged him.

SPEEDING IN THE CITY.

When the driver of car No. 253 owned by the Star Garage was charged with speeding in Queen's Road Central at 8.20 p.m., on May 21, he said that he brought the car in at 6.10 and did not take it out again that night.

To a further charge of not having a rear light at the same time and place, he also pleaded "not guilty."

Inspector Garrod said that the defendant was travelling East to West at a speed he estimated at 25 miles an hour. Defendant had no rear light, and witness was able to see his number only by the aid of the electric light on the street. The witness shouted to the defendant at the foot of Garden Road to stop, but apparently he did not hear him. The witness walked to the garage and examined the car. The radiator was red hot and even the body of the car was hot. When the rear light was switched on at witness's instructions, it failed to work.

The defendant explained that reason the why the car was hot was because he had to move it out into the road several times to allow other cars to get out. Inspector Garrod said that on the black board in the garage, 253 was recorded, as having returned at 8.25, only five minutes before the witness got there.

The defendant denied this also.

The Magistrate: You are lying. I fine you $25 on the first charge and $5 on the other.

SMALL BUT FAST.

Charged with speeding, the driver of motor car No. 175 said his car was a small one and could not go fast.

The Magistrate: It could not exceed the speed limit, 15 miles. It can go 20 miles at the most, but I never run it at that speed.

A fine of $10 was imposed. Defendant: I have no money.

The Magistrate 14 days then.

For driving the car without a rear light on May 19, and passing a stationary tram car on May 22, the driver of motor car No. 234, who said that on both occasions his master was driving, was fined $5 on each charge. The fine was paid by his master.

COMPANY MEETING.

PEAK TRAMWAY CO., LTD.

LARGER CARS.

The ordinary annual general meeting of the Peak Tramways Co., Ltd., took place at the Hongkong Hotel to-day at noon. Mr. Henry Humphreys presided, and there were present the Hon. Sir Paul Chater C.M.G., the Hon. A. O. Lang, and Messrs. J. Scott Harston, A. S. Gubbay and J. Bell Irving (directors), G. Rapp (secretary) and the following shareholders: Messrs. F. C. Hall, D. E. Clarke, C. H. Lyson, J. W. Wong and W. Morley.

After the notice convening the meeting had been read by the Secretary.

The Chairman said, "Gentlemen—I propose with your permission to take the Report and Statement of accounts and Auditors' report as read."

Traffic receipts show the very satisfactory increase of $30,469.79. We have realised some of our investments at a profit of $21,976.40; in addition there is an unrealised profit of $15,760.00 which is shown under the heading of Investment Fluctuation account. The amount under the heading of Maintenance and Repairs is considerably higher than usual. The difference is more than accounted for by the fact we have written down our old rolling stock and transferred the amount written off to Maintenance and Repairs Account.

We are asking you to transfer the large sum of $40,000 to Special Repairs Reserve Account because in the ensuing year we shall have not only to entirely rebuild the viaduct at the Upper terminus but also lay the line from end to end with new rails. These rails will be of a heavier calibre than those now in use as they are intended to cope with larger cars carrying more passengers.

I have no further remarks to make and after the accounts have been duly seconded I shall be pleased to answer any questions shareholders may have to ask.

Mr. F. C. Hall seconded the resolution and it was carried unanimously.

On the motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. W. Morley the resolution as directors of the Hon. Sir Paul Chater C.M.G., the Hon. A. O. Lang and Messrs. J. Scott Harston, A. S. Gubbay and J. Bell Irving was unanimously agreed to.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews and Mr. C. Bernard Brown were unanimously re-elected as auditors at a remuneration of $150 each, on the motion of Mr. D. E. Clarke, seconded by Mr. J. M. Wong.

The Chairman: That concludes the business of the meeting, gentlemen—I am much obliged to you for attending. Dividend warrants are now ready and may be had on application at the Company's Offices.

For passing a stationary tram car, the driver of motor car No. 80 was fined $5 at the Magistracy this morning.

PORTUGUESE KNOCKED DOWN.

The remand case in which the driver of motor car No. 396 was charged with dangerous driving, and knocking down a Portuguese near the Star Ferry wharf, was again before the Magistrate this morning.

The Portuguese, Mr. J. A. Simoes, a clerk of the Chartered Bank, said that he was hurrying to cross the road to catch the ferry, when a couple of yards from the wharf he saw a flash of light and simultaneously he was knocked down. He was not badly hurt. The mudguard struck his leg.

By the Magistrate: He did not stand in the road. He was unable to estimate the speed of the car.

The Magistrate said that the whole point was whether or not the defendant was speeding, and he was not satisfied from the Indian constable's evidence that he was. Besides, the Indian's story that the Portuguese gentleman was standing in the road was not corroborated by the latter. The defendant would be discharged with a caution.

MURDER AS AN ART.

GERMS IN MUSHROOMS.

INSURES THEN POISONS FRIENDS.

Paris, April 21.—After three years of investigation of the charges against him the French Magistrate in charge of his case has sent to trial Henri Girard, who, in the annals of French crime, may merit a title greater than that of Landru. Landru, according to the evidence on which he will some day be tried, selected his victims from among those who would not easily be missed and disposed of their bodies by burning them to cinders in his country cottage.

Girard was a poisoner. He first insured his victims and then poisoned them. But he did not use any old-fashioned methods. He invited them to luncheon and gave them a dish of mushrooms or a cocktail in which he had carefully mixed a culture of typhoid germs. In four cases he succeeded in drawing for himself or his accomplices large sums of money from insurance companies, after having so scientifically done to death the policy holder.

The work of examining the charges against him has been long and complicated. Several bacteriologists have been employed on the case and the bodies of several of Girard's victims have had to be exhumed. Three cases described in the Magistrate's report serve to show how Girard worked.

In 1912 Girard persuaded his friend Pernotte to insure his life in his (Girard's) favour for 120,000 francs. Soon afterward Pernotte and his whole family fell ill of typhoid. When they were convalescent Girard called to see his friend and gave him an injection which he said was certain to cure him. Pernotte died and Girard pocketed the insurance money.

Another friend, Duroux, also insured himself for 20,000 francs in Girard's favour. A few weeks later Girard asked his friend to dine with him and his wife. In Girard's diary, occurs this entry: "Duroux to dinner, mushrooms." The maids who gave evidence declared that Girard told them not to touch the dish in which the mushrooms were served, and that he washed it himself later with antiseptics. Duroux seems to have had a charmed life, for he did not fall sick, and Girard had to ask him to drink an aperitif some days later. "Symptoms of poisoning," is the doctor's succinct report.

Another dinner party Girard gave resulted in his netting 40,000 francs, but it also resulted in his arrest. In April, 1918, his mistress insured herself with three separate companies in the name of a certain Mme. Monin. On the 13th of the month they invited Mme. Monin to dinner, and the same evening she expired in agony. The next day Girard demanded the payment of the insurance, but one of the companies concerned became suspicious and asked an inquiry. It resulted in the arrest of Girard; his wife, his mistress and two other accomplices, who will all now come up for trial. When the police searched Girard's apartment they found it well-stocked with medical books, studies on mushrooms and cultures of typhoid bacilli.

When the Italian steamer "Aquila" left Singapore for Hongkong one of its firemen, a Dalmatian, who was reported to have been out of his mind, and committed excesses on board, was left behind. He proved himself objectionable to some of the passengers, whose clothing he threw into the sea. He also attacked some of the crew, who consequently refused to continue on the journey if the man remained on board. He was therefore given into police custody, and will be sent back by next available boat.

Three cases of plague (two fatal) and three cases of small pox (two fatal) were reported yesterday. All the cases were Chinese. Last week ten Chinese died from small pox, five from plague, three from influenza, one from enteric fever, and one from cerebro spinal fever. One Portuguese died from plague. There were also reported four non-fatal cases of plague (one imported), two small-pox, and four of cerebro spinal fever, all Chinese. A non-fatal imported case of enteric fever, Portuguese, and a non-fatal case of diphtheria, British were notified.

A Paris telegram states that the report on the Bill concerning the running of maritime, postal and general services to the Far East, Australia, New Caledonia, the Eastern Coast of Africa, and the Eastern Mediterranean, which has just been tabled in the Chamber, specifies that the Messageries Maritimes Co. shall cease to be a State subsidised company. A new organisation, based on the regime system, will carry on the necessary services. The Messageries Maritimes Co. undertakes to form a special company with a capital of sixty million francs in the six months following the ratification of the contract. A number of alterations will be made in the mail-steamer routes.

CHINA AND GERMANY.

NEW AGREEMENT.

BIG GAIN FOR TEUTONS.

The Peking correspondent of the Shanghai Times writes:—In return for her consent to the abrogation of German consular jurisdiction in China, Germany appears to have won a decided victory in her new trade agreement with this Republic, which was formally signed at noon on May 20. Germans are to be allowed to travel or reside anywhere in China where nationals of another country are permitted; China is no longer to sequester German property, heretofore all the proceeds from the liquidation of German property and all German property under sequestration. These are big advantages for Germany but, likewise, China considers Germany's consent to the abrogation of consular jurisdiction will pave the way and have a pronounced moral effect upon other nations in her fight, just being launched, for the abolition of extraterritoriality. In this connection it is not violating a confidence to point out that Chinese management of the ex-German Concessions in Tientsin and Hankow has already aroused the indignation of the Diplomatic Corps, which proposed to lodge a complaint, but whether this complaint will be made, under the present circumstances, is doubtful. However, the Diplomatic Corps has also been stirred by the manner in which China has been looking after the ex-Russian Concessions and the manner in which she has treated Russians in China, particularly the non-Bolsheviks, and there is likely to be an important development in connection with this in a very short time. In her new trade pact with Germany, China reserves the right to discuss with the Deutsch-Asiatische Bank methods for settlement of the bank question. The bank property is situated within the Legation Quarter and has frequently been voiced by diplomatic representatives of other countries an unwillingness to let the bank operate again, as a German institution, in the Legation district. It will be interesting to see how this eventually turns out.

A STEADY GERMAN INFLUX.

It is significant in connection with the trade agreement that many Germans have slowly and gradually been returning to China, ready to engage in trade at the first opening, and also that thousands of German merchants are anxious to leave their own country temporarily to better their condition. That there will be a big influx to China very shortly is conceded in official circles but just what these Germans can accomplish in the way of dumping German goods on China markets it is difficult to say, for there is a very high tax imposed on German exports by the Allies. In official circles here the belief is expressed that most of the Germans coming here will endeavour to "engage" in manufacturing in China, which would not subject them to the heavy German export tax and enable them to get their goods on the market at a low figure. The general sentiment is, however, that the next year or so will see a vigorous price-cutting move on the part of the Germans in their effort to regain some of their past commercial laurels.

BOYCOTT OF HONGKONG.

SUPPRESSING AGITATION.

DRASTIC CANTON MEASURES.

The Police Department has been notified to take drastic measures to break up any public meeting agitating for the boycott of Hongkong which some people have lately been attempting to organize. It is with the hope of maintaining friendly relations with the authorities consider it necessary to instruct the police of the city to co-operate in the suppression of propagating bad feelings toward the British Colony.—Canton Times.

One of the wonderful old men of Singapore is Mr. D. Maw, who must have been out here something like forty years. He has been a famous big game hunter in his day and even now still goes out occasionally. He has probably shot more tigers than any man now living in Malaya.

BRITISH TRADE WITH CHINA.

MR. PARTINGTON INTERVIEWS THE CHINESE MINISTER.

In the course of an interview which took place recently between Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese Minister in London, and Mr. T. Byren Partington of Hongkong, His Excellency said:—

The existing bonds of friendship between the two peoples are strong, but it is hoped they may be further strengthened. In this direction the Anglo-Chinese Friendship Society is performing a very useful piece of work. There may be other ways of strengthening this friendship between the two nations, but there are two which occur readily to me—namely, along the lines of trade and industry and education. And it must be admitted that the best key to success is mutual co-operation in every sense of the word.

At present British trade still predominates in the foreign trade of China, but the competition of other countries will probably be much keener in the future than in the past. Before the war British commerce used to lead by a wide margin; since the war Japan's share, for example, in the trade with China has steadily been mounting and is now a close second behind England's. It is not necessary to inquire into the reasons for the changed situation, but it may be relevant to emphasise the need of closer co-operation between British manufacturers and Chinese merchants. That this can be secured need hardly be doubted.

For one thing, good-will prevails between Chinese and British business men, and good-will is an easy stepping-stone to closer co-operation, as well as a valuable asset to them both. During the war the dearth of shipping to Europe caused the diversion to other countries of much business that used to be given to this country. With the revival of former connections between Chinese and British traders, however, and especially with the restoration of normal trade and shipping conditions everywhere, there ought to be no difficulty for the securing of a large share of big orders for Britain.

NEW CHINESE LINE.

HONGKONG TERMINAL PORT.

A new Chinese shipping line has been established and has been granted registration with the Peking Government.

Ouyang Yu-han and a number of other overseas Chinese merchants, seeing the increase of passenger and freight trade between China and North and South America, have subscribed among themselves $4,000, 000 which will be used as capital for the new company. They state that the receipts of foreign steamship lines amount to millions yearly and believe that if a regular Chinese line was organized, it would receive large patronage. Hitherto, only foreign lines have been running between China and North and South American ports, much to the inconvenience of Chinese passengers and shippers, they claim.

The company, which will be known as the China Steamship Co., Ltd. will have two routes, one running between Hongkong and Chile, via Shanghai, Honolulu, Mexico, Panama, and Peru, and the other between Hongkong and New York, via Shanghai, Honolulu, Panama, and Cuba. One steamer, the "Hwaping," is said to have already been chartered from the Ministry of Navy, and it is expected that the service will begin shortly. The "Hwaping," which is one of the former German vessels taken over by the Chinese Government upon her declaration of war against Germany, is at present chartered to the China Australian Steamship Co., a company formed mostly of Chinese who are or have been resident in Australia.

JAPAN'S GERMAN STEAMERS

The eight German steamers which were ceded to Japan by the German Government as the result of the Peace Conference, include the "Cap Finisterre," 14,000 tons, now renamed the "Taiyo Maru," the "Bliefeldt," 9,000 tons, the "Vittoria," 6,490 tons, the "Mecklenburg," 3,451 tons, the "Normania," 3,229 tons, the "Kleist," 9,800 tons, the "Abyssinia," 5,753 tons, and the "Wesel," 1,028 tons. The "Taiyo Maru" has been chartered to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and the "Kleist" to the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. The "Vittoria," has been sold to a foreign buyer at London, while the "Wesel" and the "Mecklenburg" are now lying at anchor at Hamburg. The Department of Communications is considering how to dispose of the "Normania," the "Bliefeldt," both of which recently arrived in Japan and are now moored at Yokosuka.

MASTER'S REQUEST.

A ship's master asked for the sale of his ship, the "Panaghis Dracatos," a Greek, in the Admiralty Court, before the President (Sir Henry Duke).

Counsel, Mr. L. H. Stranger (Instructed by Messrs. Downing, Hancock, Middleton, and Lewis) for the master, asked for an order for the appraisal and sale of the vessel. On February 28, 1921, his lordship, he said, gave judgment upon the master's claim for wages and disbursements, subject to a reference. The present application for sale was made so that the master's claim might be satisfied.

Mr. H. C. S. Dumas (Instructed by Messrs. Thomas Cooper and Co.) for the mortgagees, who had intervened, said he agreed, subject to questions of priorities and the fund being brought into Court. On behalf of the mortgagees he had also to ask for judgment. The mortgage was dated September 25, 1919, and default was made under it on September 28, 1920. Thereupon the whole sum secured by the mortgage became due. An extension was granted until January 28, 1921, but notwithstanding the extension no money had been forthcoming. The writ issued on February 7, 1921, and the statement of claim was dated March 15. There had been no appearance by the defendants.

His Lordship granted both the master's application, and pronounced for the validity of the mortgage. He gave judgment upon the mortgagees' claim with costs, subject to a reference to assess the amount thereof, reserving all priorities.

GENERAL NOTES

The S. N. O's Shanghai anchorage has now been shifted further up stream opposite the Signal Tower, where H. M. S. "Bee" is now lying. There are to be two buoys in future to prevent craft from turning round at high and low water.

The Kobe Customs Watch Corps, an efficient organization of expert guards and fire fighters, has been recently formed and now guards the customs compounds, godowns and other property along the waterfront from loss by theft and also acts as firemen. The guard was organized to prevent pilfering about the port which has existed in the past.

A complaint has been received from Singapore Pilots that they are, in some cases, asked to take vessels from the wharf to the Roads and vice versa on only one boiler, or without a full head of steam. This is a dangerous practice and the commanders of all vessels are requested to have a full head of steam when manoeuvring in the Harbour.

The directors of the British India Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., have sanctioned the presentation of a gold watch, suitably inscribed, to Captain Omar J. Humphrey, of the American steamship "West Amargosa," in recognition of his gallant conduct in rescuing survivors from the strainer "Fazika," when the vessel was stranded on the east side of the great Nicobar Islands. Captain Humphrey was in command of the steamer "West Modus" at the time of this rescue, the circumstances of which were brought to the notice of the British India Steamship Navigation Co., by the Imperial Merchant Service Guild.

On behalf of the directors of the British India Steam Navigation Co., Mr. Fromm, senior partner of the firm in Bombay, presented on May 2, a handsome gold watch to Mr. A. Johnson, chief engineer of the steamer "Bhadra," in appreciation of the services rendered by him in connection with the saving of the company's steamer "Eripura." Mr. Fromm stated that Mr. Johnson did excellent work under most trying circumstances. He stood by the "Eripura" in the Red Sea for eighteen months and finally was on board the vessel as her chief engineer when she was towed across to Bombay which was a most difficult and hazardous task.

Word has been received here that the U. S. Shipping Board is planning to make extensive repairs and alterations to the new Admiral Line passenger steamer "Wenatchee" when she returns to Seattle after her first trip to the Far East. The "Wenatchee" is expected to arrive here on Saturday from Hongkong on her way home. Though the steamer was to have stayed in Seattle for 15 days, the alterations are expected to take about 30 days and for that reason the next sailing of the steamer from Seattle to Shanghai has been postponed to July 30. The same despatch brings information that the str. "Silver State," named after the "State of Nevada," the third vessel to be delivered to the Company, has successfully completed her trial trip off the Atlantic Coast, making a trial speed of 18½ knots an hour. The engines and pumps are perfect and the furnishings are superior to the "Wenatchee," states the message. We are informed that the second steamer handed over by the U. S. Shipping Board to the Company, the "Keystone State," will leave Seattle on June 18. She will be followed by the "Silver State" on July 9 and the "Wenatchee" on July 30.

BEFORE BABY CAN TALK

he must tell you things by signs. And so when you see his hands going often to his mouth, and find him cross and irritable and unable to get to sleep when he should, it means that he is having trouble with his teething.

In such circumstances all baby needs is Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian specific for children's ills. They act almost like magic, soothing the pain, cooling the fever and thus quickly inducing natural, calm and health-promoting sleep.
"My baby was sick and restless whilst cutting his teeth but Baby's Own Tablets quickly made him all right. I have never found anything so good as these Tablets for regulating the bowels of little children," writes Mrs. M. W. Stoddard, of East Brookfield, Vermont, U.S.A.
Baby's Own Tablets cure infantile constipation, indigestion, colic, diarrhoea, colds, croup and worms. Chemically soft, and free from any harmful drugs, they are given direct and post-free at 6¢ cents the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Ezechuen Road, Shanghai.

This plan was frustrated, and in the hour of need there was nothing "standing behind the British Fifth Army." Captain Wright's account of the cause of this frustration is as follows. By February 19 letters from the French and Italian Commanders-in-Chief, assenting to the General Reserve scheme and promising their quota, had been received. Nothing was heard from Haig till March 3, when a letter, dated the previous day, was received, "refusing to contribute any divisions to the General Reserve," kind of misconduct—French's instigation of Répington and other journalistic intriguers against his superiors. Captain Wright somehow gives us an uncomfortable feeling that he holds a brief not so much for discretion and loyalty to soldiers as for certain soldiers and politicians, for whose exaltation certain other soldiers have to be found wanting. He is pro-Foch, pro-Henry Wilson, pro-Lloyd George. And he is anti-Haig. We do not suggest that this invalidates all that he writes. Lawyers, though they are out to fight for one side, sometimes help a court towards part of the truth. So do one side's most passionate witness. But let us wait to hear what the other side says. There is no need to decide in a hurry.—Manchester Guardian.

Prof. Einstein examined a material system in which only two states, A and B are possible. The system shew any falling off and the turnover has again been comparatively satisfactory. It appears in fact to have been better than in the previous weeks. Prices for both yarn and cloth tend to stiffen. The amount of business arranged recently has been very fair considering the stagnation we have experienced for so long and the difficulties still in the way of a resumption of trading. So far as producers are concerned, the improvement has not yet been general; rates at which business has been possible have been very low and in many instances sellers prefer to wait until more profitable prices are obtainable. On the other hand many mills which have been idle for some time have recommenced work and others are making arrangements to do so. At the same time both spinners and manufacturers are generally in regard cotton and yarn as safe propositions and are quietly covering their probable requirements. The opinion of cloth buyers is also hardening in the same direction, but unfortunately the ability to operate is far from general owing to financial considerations. Progress is being made although it is very slow, but now that more confidence in values is being established even this restricting factor may be expected to diminish more rapidly. India demand remains the most important and now embraces almost all classes of goods with the exception of fancies, which are seldom asked for. Enquiry from Egypt and the Levant is more prominent and rather more business has been put down. Singapore and Java have also done a little, but there are still no signs of any material improvement in the demand for China, for which market transactions have again been very limited.

But consideration also must be given to the equilibrium between the number of systems having state B and those entering state B. Thus Planck's law of distribution of energy is derived. If it is true that light is absorbed and emitted in such quanta as Planck finds, Prof. Einstein said, it must be considered that the emission of light takes place in one direction from a resonator instead of spreading out in all directions like a sphere.

said "Why?" and someone else, "Is't worth them pheasant-shooting?" We think it is, and for a reason no sportsman will cavil at. The shooting of pigeons is a test of nothing, and an exercise in nothing but shooting. The moving dummy figures of the fairground, the balls that dance on jets of water, or, for that matter, an old hat tossed in the air in the back garden, would make "sport" every whit as good. It is shameful to take life on these terms. The man who pits his skill and endurance against a tiger or a mountain takes a certain risk. Even if he only challenges a friend at tennis, at least he expends a certain energy. This blazing at birds, liberated for the purpose before his nose, tests nothing but his eyesight, and for that there are a score of tests more amusing and more sporting. It is admittedly a question of degree, but even the pheasant-shooter has to tramp some awkward ground; the bird gets a chance; and the less the chance the worse the sport in the opinion of all decent pheasant-shooters. "Aff sport should be a test, and the harder the test the better the sport." Pigeon-shooting is no test worth this name. Its continuance anywhere is merely a cause of failure to advance in our view of sport.

COURTEOUS JUDGE.

NEW LORD CHIEF JUSTICE.

WHY HE IS POPULAR.

One of the taxicab drivers waiting in St. James' Square the other day called suddenly to his companion, "That's him, look!" Together they watched an elderly man in a black lounge coat and grey trousers. He walked jauntily, with the quick step of good health, his stick swinging, his soft felt hat set at a slight angle and turned well down at the back.

He was Sir Alfred Tristram Lawrence, the new Lord Chief Justice of England, and, unknown to him, the cabmen paid him his first public homage.

The first day's work following the announcement of his new appointment was done at Winchester House, St. James' Square, in the court of the War Claims Commission. He sat until the mid-afternoon, and polished off five intricate cases.

The atmosphere of the court was distinctly informal and intimate. Sir A. T. Lawrence sat unrobed in a leather armchair, his officials on either side of him, with barristers, without wig or gown, and solicitors to the various claimants on the opposite side of a long table. It was more like a board room discussion of directors than a judicial proceeding.

One thing specially noticeable to the lay onlooker was the courtesy expressed in the voice and manner of the new Lord Chief Justice. That is his great characteristic. He is always kind, particularly to young barristers and nervous witnesses. He is known at the Law Courts as "the judge who never loses his temper."

MOGHUL PRINCESS.

GRAVE JUST DISCOVERED.

TALE OF ANCIENT EAST INDIAN LOVE.

Delhi. (By Mail).—A very interesting archaeological discovery has recently been made in Delhi. While demolishing a mound on the police parade ground, the workmen discovered beneath it a well-built tomb. This tomb has been carefully examined by the officials of the Archaeological Department, and by several Oriental scholars at Delhi, and very little doubt remains that the marble slab marks the last resting place of the Emperor Aurangzeb's learned and highly accomplished daughter the Princess Zeb-ul-Nisa.

This princess, whose name translated means "The Ornament of Womanhood," was the favourite daughter of the Emperor Aurangzeb, who reigned at Delhi from 1658 to 1707, in whose reign the Moghul dynasty reached the zenith of its power. The Emperor made her his counsellor on many affairs of state, and she possessed to a remarkable degree the confidence of her Royal father, who trusted very few people. For a time she was the keeper of the Royal Seal.

It was probably due to her father's wishes that she never married. It is said, however, that she was deeply loved by a young nobleman of great learning and a poet. She reciprocated his affections and their secret became known to the Emperor. One day while the young lover was on a visit to the Princess, the Emperor probably being informed of his presence, came to her apartments in the courtyard. There stood on an oven a huge cauldron such as is used for boiling water. The young man hid himself inside it. The Emperor asked the Princess what the cauldron contained. She answered that it contained bath water. He suspected the real contents, and ordered that a fire be lighted, to boil the water. The young man allowed himself to be roasted to death rather than bring disgrace on the Princess, and it is said that he did not as much as utter a sigh.

The Princess died in 1695 in the 37th year of her father's reign. She was one of the most interesting and charming personalities of Moghul times. Besides attaining to great proficiency in the Persian and Arabic languages, she was a poetess and an author of considerable merit. A commentary on the Koran written by her and called Zeb-ul-Tafsir is still extant. The Government of India is now taking steps to preserve and beautifully her tomb, so unexpectedly brought to light—Kokoi.

TRADE CREDITS SCHEME.

INDIA AND THE FAR EAST EXCEPTED.

LONDON, May 31.

The House of Commons passed resolutions extending the credit and insurances scheme throughout the Empire except India and the British possessions in the Far East which the Premier stated required certain consideration owing to conditions under which outstanding obligations had not been fully honoured. It was not desirable that credit facilities should be extended if they in any way prevented from traders discharging their full obligations. The department's decision as regards India and the Far East had been taken after consulting bankers, the India and the Colonial Office. The scheme did not extend there until there were conditions such as would obviate these differences. He emphasised that it was only when the banks did not take up business that the Government would step in. The scheme was entirely supplementary.

KINEMA NOTES.

HONGKONG THEATRE.

Thos. H. Ince presents Charles Ray in "The Son of his Father," a fine story of love, youth and ambition. This is a paramount Star attraction in five parts. It will be screened at the Hongkong Theatre from today at the Matinee and 9.15 p.m. shows until Friday night. A specially good comedy will be given also. A new orchestra will soon be organized.

"THE LOST CITY."

The first two episodes of the Coronet's new serial "The Lost City" are now being shown. Already the film shows distinct signs of proving one of the most popular and successful serials shown at this theatre. It has all the elements necessary to achieve this result. There are unusual scenes and thrilling situations which hold the attention the whole time. Photography again is a strong point, especially with regard to animals. Among the most sensational scenes is that of the lions from which the heroine is rescued by means of an aeroplane. It is closely rivalled by that in which she is threatened by alligators. It is certain that further episodes of this story will be eagerly looked for.

A picture of local interest is that composed of scenes taken at the recent V.R.C. sports. They have been well taken and several people will have the opportunity of seeing themselves on the screen. A Chaplin picture completes an excellent programme.

AN EXTRADITION CASE.

CHARGE OF MURDER.

Yesterday afternoon at the Magistrate's Court Mr. G. N. Orme heard an application for the extradition to Canton of a man alleged to have been concerned in an armed robbery, followed by murder, in the village of San Chau Tin.

The Assistant Crown Solicitor (Mr. Hazlerigg) said the fugitive appeared on a demand for extradition based on three charges arising out of a robbery at San Chau Tin village, in Chinese territory, on March 22. Witnesses would say that on that night some 40 armed robbers, of whom the fugitive was one, broke into various houses in the village. At one house, the fugitive was identified by the householder. In another house, as the robbers were leaving, the aunt of one of the witnesses addressed the fugitive and another man, by name, and appealed to them to leave her some of her property. The fugitive was alleged, thereupon, fired at the woman with his revolver and one of his associates stabbed her. She died immediately.

On April 21 one of the witnesses saw the fugitive in a house in Yau-mat and he was arrested there, a few days later. On May 17 a requisition for extradition was received from the Civil Governor of the Province of Kwangtung. Some of the people in the houses entered by the robbers then gave evidence bearing out the story related by Mr. Hazlerigg.

Mr. Hazlerigg also produced two witnesses, asked for by the fugitive. They both said that he was living in Yau-mat at the time the robbery took place, though they did not quite agree on all the dates that were mentioned. The man, himself, declared that he was not there and said the villagers had forbidden themselves because of a dispute with him, two years ago, over the sale of cattle.

The Magistrate said he was inclined to believe that the man was not concerned in the robbery. He pointed out to Mr. Hazlerigg that the witnesses were all related and seemed too confident in their identification, considering the circumstances of time and place, and that the man they identified as the fugitive was wearing dark glasses.

Mr. Hazlerigg reminded the Magistrate of the discrepancy of time in the evidence of the witnesses called to prove an alibi.

The Magistrate said he did not regard that as of very great importance. What struck him when the witnesses gave their evidence was the way the whole family introduced the name of the fugitive as a man they recognised.

The fugitive made a further appeal to the Magistrate and said he was a Christian. He also gave the names of other witnesses.

The case was adjourned for a week in order that these persons might be found.
